A TRUST DEED.
Russell Sage and George J. Gould in Court.
Associated Press Special Service.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—The answer of Russell Sage and George J. Gould to the complaint of the Soldiers' Orphans Home of St. Louis in the deed of trust, the plaintiff for an alleged appropriation for purposes not named in the deed of trust, of $11,000,000 worth of stocks in the Kansas Pacific Railway Company, will be filed on or before October 24, 1894. The plaintiff, the Soldiers' Orphans Home, is interested only to the extent of $10,000, but it is asserted that 150 other claimants are interested in the ultimate outcome of the suit. The complaint is in substance as follows:

In May, 1879, the Kansas Pacific Railway executed its trust deed to Jay Gould and Russell Sage as trustees, and upon the faith of that trust the bonds were issued and sold, the plaintiff being the owner of $10,000 of said bonds. The $20,000,000 of par value (less 1400) of the Denver Pacific stock were in the possession of Gould and Sage as trustees of the security of the bondholders. They appropriated it for purposes not named in the deed of trust, and on January 14, 1880, Sage and Gould signed a paper providing that the Denver Pacific stock be used for other purposes than those named in the deed of trust. Jay Gould controlled the Kansas Pacific Railway Company at this time and caused papers of the nature of a summons to be served on himself and Sage as defendants. They interposed an answer, submitting the trust to action of the court. Jay Gould verified the alleged pledging. Russell Sage being a witness. Three days after Justice O'Donoghue of the Supreme Court signed a judgment upon a referee's report, decreeing the Denver Pacific trust stock be forever freed and released from the trust created.

In further violation of the trust an order was secured attempting to prevent the further issue of bonds, thereby preventing the realization of their proceedings. No property was placed under the deed of trust in lieu of the $20,000,000 of Denver Pacific to be taken therefrom.

NO WARLIKE STEPS.
The Guatemalan Minister Credits no Reports of a Crisis.
Associated Press Special Service.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Minister Arriaga, the Guatemalan Minister, does not credit the dispatches from Mexico, Mexico, that war is impending between Mexico and Guatemala, and that the latter country has sent troops to meet several thousand Mexican troops at Acapulco and Tehuantepec. Senior Arriaga says that he will be quickly advised if warlike steps are taken, and has received nothing to show that such a move has been made, or is contemplated. The boundary-line question being negotiated between Mexico and Guatemala is no more, says the Minister, than the boundary between Mexico and the United States, and it has not at any time reached such a serious phase as would warrant reports of war.

MORE FIGHTING

Fresh Advances from the Orient.
Each Side Loses 3000 Men At Wiju.

The Chinese Fleet Ordered to Attack the Squadron of the Japanese.

Twenty Thousand Men Sent to Korea Within Two Weeks—Operations Against Port Arthur to be Begun.

Associated Press Special Service.
VICTORIA (B. C.), Oct. 23.—The Northern Pacific liner, Tacoma, arrived this morning, bringing Yokohama advices to October 7, as follows:

The only fresh facts concerning the sea fight near Taisan Harbor that can be trusted are supplied by private letters from officers of the fleet. They indicate that the battle was planned with care and deliberation, and that whatever imprudence may have been shown by the individual commanders, Admiral Ito acted with judgment throughout. He warned Vice-Admiral Katsuragi, chief of staff, who joined the expedition as a spectator, and was not expected to participate to any extent in the proceedings, to keep his mail steamer aloof out of danger, and sent instructions to the Akagi that she should not expose herself to greatly superior forces, but both ships accepted the heavy odds, and suffered accordingly. At one stage of the affair they contended against large ironclads within five hundred meters range, and were frequently made targets for torpedoes. Regular men-of-war would probably justify themselves in sharing all the perils of combat, however ill equipped, but the Akagi, with no armament but small Armstrong and three rapid-firing guns, and a merchant crew, wholly unfit to handling artillery, was in no condition to measure prowess with a pair of 7000-ton battleships. Such deeds, though brilliant and picturesque, belong rather to the category in which the Balklava battle is included than to methods of practical warfare.

It is now known that several Europeans, in addition to Herr von Hanneken, served on board the Chinese ships in the battle. Two of them, both English, were killed. Purdie, an engineer of the Chin Yuen, and Nicholls, an instructor on the Ting Yuen. McGiffin and Hickman of the Chen Yuen were wounded and Albrecht and Hoffman, being on the Tai Yuen, were unhurt.

A report from Hong Kong states that a number of foreign residents, the municipal administration have been summoned to take command of warships at the north. By way of contrast, it is noteworthy that none but natives of Japan are permitted to serve in either the army or navy of that empire.

Facts come in very slow. Only two days ago news was received that Kwang Kai, a new 10,000-ton cruiser ran ashore, while trying to escape on the night of September 17, and was afterward destroyed by Japanese torpedoes. The information comes from Chee Foo, and, if it is confirmed, the list of Chinese losses must be increased.

The Japanese army movements are carried on with great secrecy, but the embarkation of full corps cannot be accomplished without attracting the curious attention of the public. Within the past two weeks portions of the Japanese army have been transported to Korea to the number, it is said, of 20,000. The government maintains an impenetrable silence respecting the destination of these troops, but no one supposes they are needed on the peninsula and the universal conviction is that a speedy descent upon the Chinese coast is projected. If this bold step has really been determined upon, the necessity of setting about it before approach of winter is recognized on all sides.

Prince Mori, formerly Daimio of Chosha, has divided 30,000 yen equally between the army and navy funds, and has killed and buried in the most honorable manner serving who were born in this province. Capitalist Iwakaki, by far the richest man in Japan, has presented the War Department a portable barracks, capable of accommodating an army of 3000. An imperial ordinance has been issued instituting a system of military honors, and the Japanese army is now in a state of high alert. The Japanese army is now in a state of high alert.

Notification has been issued to the effect that the assassins of Missionary Wylie have been beheaded, but the Shanghai newspapers profess to have information that the actual execution of the assassins whom it is not desirable to offend, have gone free, and that the only punishment inflicted has been upon criminals already charged with other offenses. The demolished chapel near New-Chwang is, however, to be rebuilt, and a sum of money, which, it is hoped, will satisfy the murdered man's family, will be given to them.

INDIAN TERRITORY TOWNS ARE INVADDED.

Bill Cook's Gang on the Rampage.
Merchants Compelled to Give Up Whatever the Bandits Desire.

The Arrival of a Train at Tala Puts the Desperadoes to Flight—The Express Companies and the Shipment of Money.

Associated Press Special Service.
LITTLE ROCK (Ark.), Oct. 23.—Last night's programme in the great carnival of crime, which is now holding the boards in Indian Territory, consisted of the wholesale robbery of several small towns in genuine desperado style by Bill Cook, supported by a strong and desperate company of eight or ten followers.

Four men rode into the town of Watova early this evening, making their approach known by a prominent discharge of firearms. The bandits terrorized the inhabitants, and most of the latter sought safety in their houses behind barricaded doors. The outlaws visited every store in the village, and ran the merchants away with Winchester and revolvers. They took from the stores all the money they could find and whatever else they wanted.

The Watova postoffice was robbed of about $60 in cash and about $55 in stamps. From Watova the gang ran on into Tala, ten miles away, where they repeated their depredations. They rode into the town and proceeded at once to rob stores right and left. Every store in the place was visited, and the proprietors compelled to turn over their cash. The postoffice was also robbed of stamps and a small amount of money. The bandits entered the town boldly, and made no effort to conceal their identity. None were masked. From reports of their descriptions they were undoubtedly the same gang that held up the Missouri Pacific train at Correta siding on Saturday night. It is believed that it was the bandits' intention to rob Missouri Pacific train No. 231 at Tala. While they were holding up the postoffice the train pulled into the station. The trainmen were notified of the presence of the gang, and the train was started at once. The bandits galloped out of town, discharging their Winchester.

TOO EXPENSIVE.
Why Express Companies Refuse Money Shipments.
Associated Press Special Service.
ST. LOUIS, Oct. 23.—Bandits and business men living in the towns in Indian Territory, as well as those living outside the Territory, but doing business with Territory firms, are greatly worked up over the condition of affairs which has made it necessary for the Pacific Express Company to refuse money shipments into or out of the Territory. So far as the express company is concerned, however, they take a philosophical view of the situation and not a complaint has been registered.

The situation in the Indian Territory today, said Superintendent C. W. Case of the Pacific Express Company, "is worse than it ever was. There is absolutely no protection for life or property except as we furnish ourselves. This continual carrying of such an armed force makes the business too expensive to be profitable. We have lost more by the express than we ever did by the actual robberies. Now this Saturday robbery—if it was lost $417. This consisted of return C.O.D.'s, which we are still handling, and our own and the railroad's remittances. But you can see that to protect even a small amount of money, it would cost when such a gang as that attacked the train. The other companies are still carrying money, but I am informed by Mr. Simpson of the Wells-Fargo Company, that he asked the general superintendent to issue an order similar to ours.

"To give a little idea of what we have paid out I will speak of the Oliphant robbery. Our losses there were about $300 and it cost us $500 to capture the robbers. At the present rates for carrying money we would have to take into the Territory $5,000,000 to get that back. For some time before the Dalton gang was wiped out, the Missouri, Kansas and Texas and the Pacific Express had a standing reward of $5000 each for the eight men comprising the gang. This had only been shortly before we were wiped out. Unless there is a reward or we pay the expenses of the deputies, the United States Marshal does not seem to think it is his duty to capture the robbers.

There is but one way to stop this lawlessness; that is to make a State out of the Indian Territory. Of course if the Federal government would send a few regiments of soldiers down there, instead of keeping them in barracks and in these Eastern military stations, it might do some good. A war of extermination such as Gov. Crittenden waged against the James gang in Missouri is what is needed. This can certainly be properly done by admitting the Territory to Statehood. This order of ours does not affect St. Louis, as most of the money is shipped to those banks in the Territory from Little Rock or nearer points. Quite a good deal of money in payment for goods comes out of the Territory by express, but this system can be temporarily changed."

General Superintendent Fuller of the Pacific Express and General Superintendent Peck of the Iron Mountain have gone to Wagner and will spend several days in the Territory in the attempt to have the Cook gang, which perpetrated the last robbery, captured. The information received here is that "Bill" Cook is a young man not yet 22 years of age and Cherokee Bill, his chief lieutenant, is but 18. Superintendent Case says they are desperate men simply for the society and they always take all they can get. The gang which effected the robbery at Claremore, a short time ago, was the Means

Superintendent Case says they are desperate men simply for the society and they always take all they can get. The gang which effected the robbery at Claremore, a short time ago, was the Means gang, headed by Columbus Means. This is a bad gang as is also Bill Doonan's gang, which is said to have sprung from the ashes of the Dalton gang.

Superintendent Simpson of the Wells-Fargo Company is now in the Territory, also looking into the condition of the country in which his company operates. It is stated by some who are familiar with the situation that the trouble is largely due to the character of the deputy United States marshals. It is a well-known fact that they are largely recruited from the desperate class, and it is often charged they stand in with the train robbers.

THE WAR DEPARTMENT.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Secretary Hoke Smith, in a letter to the War Department, says that in view of the obligations of the government as set forth in the treaty with the Indians in the Indian Territory, to protect the five civilized tribes against domestic strife and hostile invasion, and to guarantee those people the enjoyment of their country he recommends that troops be sent as requested. It is expected that the troops will be used to hunt down and drive out the marauders who are harassing the people.

Agent Wilson wired the Indian office, asking authority to incur the necessary traveling expenses of the Indian police in assisting United States marshals in hunting down thieves and making arrests. Such authority was granted. These communications reached Acting Secretary Doe at the War Department this afternoon, and, after reading them carefully, he referred them to Gen. Schofield, commanding the army. Gen. Schofield looked into the matter and then returned the papers to the acting secretary with a suggestion that the request for troops be matured and considered with a view to ascertaining the legality of the proposed action. This endorsement from so high an authority on the complex relations between the military and civil branches of the government will undoubtedly cause the War Department to move with great caution in acting on this request for troops, and in the end may result in a refusal.

The Indian Territory differs from other Territories, from an administrative view, in the fact that the national government is bound, by treaties with the Indians, to protect them from domestic violence. But in the absence of express stipulation and law, it has been held that this protection must be extended exactly as it is to the inhabitants of other Territories, namely, through the judiciary.

The posse comitatus law prohibits the employment of troops, as provided by organic law, and that law provides, first, for the exercise of the judicial power in quelling lawlessness, and then for the employment of troops, and application of the judicial officers, based on their inability to enforce the process of the law. So far as the War Department is advised, the judiciary of the Indian Territory has not appealed for the assistance of troops, as in the case of disturbances last summer. The government will not move until such application is made, and, after the judicial officers have shown proper disposition to restore order in the Indian Territory.

The War Department, it is stated, has taken notice of the efforts of the express company to secure governmental protection for their service, and the officers are by no means well disposed toward the project. Army officers in charge of affairs feel that the express companies have not gone as far as they should in the direction of guarding the property confided to them, and hold that by placing twelve or fifteen determined men, equipped with arms, in the express car they should soon check the attacks of train-robbers, which endanger the lives of the passengers.

A SUCCESSFUL METHOD.
California Fruit Preserved in Transit by Carbonic Acid Gas.

Associated Press Special Service.
CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—The first carload of fruit shipped from California under the new process of preservation by carbonic acid gas instead of refrigeration, was disposed of on the market here today. The car was shipped from California on October 13, and, owing to numerous accidents en route, did not reach Chicago until midnight of October 21. Even then it was subjected to further delay in the yards, and did not reach the consignees' warehouse until late last night. The car contained almost all apples, and, after the fruit had been loaded, the air was exhausted and the compartments charged with carbonic acid gas. In one of the accidents on the road the car was partially derailed and one compartment was sprung in such a manner as to permit leakage of the gas. The other was not injured.

When the fruit was unloaded today that in the damaged compartment was found to be partially spoiled, owing to the admission of air, while the fruit from the other was in as perfect condition as it was on the day it was loaded. The prices it brought were about 10 per cent. above the market. These interferences in the new experiment are delighted with the success of this initial trial, and assert confidently that it settles beyond a doubt the utility and value of the plan of preservation as compared with the refrigerator car.

VAN SCIVER.
His Case Goes to the Supreme Court—Able Fined.

By Telegram to the Times.
OMAHA, Oct. 23.—(Special Dispatch.) Judge Tibbets this afternoon allowed the request for a writ of error in the Van Sciver habeas corpus case and the fight over the return of the prisoner to California will go to the Supreme Court. Meanwhile Van Sciver is in the County Jail.

When Detective Auble was tried on a charge of assault and battery, he was found guilty and was fined a nominal sum.
PORTUGAL ACCEPTS.
She Will Keep Her Subjects Out of the Closed Zones.

Associated Press Special Service.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Portugal has accepted the invitation of the United States and has signified her adherence to the agreement arranged by the Paris arbitration for the protection of seals in the North Pacific Ocean and Bering Sea.
About two months ago the State Department sent out a note to all the maritime powers save Great Britain, which was already included, inviting them to join in this agreement. These were duly acknowledged by all the recipients and the first nation to accept was Portugal, which thereby binds herself to forbid her subjects to enter the closed zones in pursuit of seals. This is the only response so far received.

York, he said. So far as Senator Hill's campaign for the Governorship is concerned, there can be no doubt that he makes a most brilliant and energetic contest. He was nominated at the Saratoga convention through no action of his own as I have every reason to know, and, in fact, was nominated in spite of it. He, however, a magnificent leader and will make the campaign one of the most

Anderson, Ind., where he will make last speech of the campaign.

VIENNA, Oct. 23.—The government has notified the Porte that until an inquiry made into his antecedents it cannot accept Nouri Bey as the new Turkish ambassador. This is regarded as a refusal to accept the appointment and the government's refusal is alleged to be due to the fact that Bey's father was a Frenchman.

Vandals at Arequipa.

PANAMA, Oct. 23.—Advices from Lima, Peru, state that a vandal act has been perpetrated on the Arequipa Observatorio. Brigands are reported to have stolen some of the valuable instruments and destroyed the buildings. The observatory was established by the Harvard University and was one of the finest equipped in the world.

THE NATIONAL GUARD

A Criticism by Competent Authority.

Lieut. G. W. McVoor, U. S. A., on the Weak Points of the State Troops.

The Blythe Estate to be Distributed—Dr. Heydecker Insane—The Ship Ivanhoe Given Up for Lost. Fruit, Shipments.

Associated Press Special-Service.

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 23.—Lieut. G. W. McVoor, of the 10th Cavalry, who was detailed to report on the condition of the National Guard, today filed his report with the Adjutant-General. He first deals with the June encampments of the First and Sixth Infantry regiments at Santa Cruz and Stockton, respectively, and that of the seventh and ninth, at Santa Monica in August. In the Stockton camp, he says there were unseemly proceedings after dark, and little effort was made to check them, the officers in some cases taking part in the disturbances. In the formations of companies the men were very slow, the delay being sometimes ten minutes. He was told that the men were sleepy, and could not be made to turn out. The camp regulations were good, and he found much to please him, and the men presented a good appearance, but were lax in the details of drill. Enlisted men were careless about saluting officers. He also gave instruction to the men at Santa Cruz, and speaks well of their conduct and efficiency. A good account is also given of the Santa Monica camp.

He devotes considerable space to the service performed by the National Guard during the railroad strike, going over the ground previously covered in other military reports. He says the San Francisco regiments went to Sacramento poorly equipped for service, and that they were not given breakfast before their arrival, and of the sensational events of the memorable fourth of July. He finds that there were 25 men in line, and 113 officers, more than one-half the latter being field and staff officers. The placing of the Sacramento men at the head of the column to confront the strikers masterly, and at the depot was, he thinks, an unwise disposition of the troops, as the moral effect that might have gone with the strange troops was lost. With the crowd of men, women and children mixed up with the soldiers and strikers, he says it is doubtful if any count could have been given if the order had been given. The lieutenant refers to the fact that "no effort was made to effect an entrance with the San Francisco troops, and the east end of the depot, which was open and unobstructed. After devoting considerable space to the situation at Oakland, Lieut. McVoor closes his report with the following recommendations:

First—A reorganization of the National Guard into three districts, each under the command of a brigadier-general, with headquarters at San Francisco, Sacramento and Los Angeles respectively.

Second—A reduction in the number of rifles, brigades and companies, and to something like the requirements of official service. The excessive proportion of staff officers in service during the strike is a matter of some significance to the people of California, considering that they were all under pay. For example, the first infantry had with it at one point eight regiments of companies, and the regular troops which in the regular service would ordinarily devote upon two lieutenants.

Third—A material reduction in the number of companies, and an increase in the strength of each company so that the strength of each company should be not less than sixty men, instead of the present forty. Under existing conditions, some of the companies are with difficulty maintained up to the minimum limit prescribed by law. In the San Francisco district, twenty-seven companies are maintained, a battery of artillery, a troop of cavalry, a heavy battalion of engineers, and a company of light infantry. These are all maintained at a number for all to be maintained up to the present standard in numbers. In many cases throughout the State, the companies are small, and the companies of ten appear at camp as insignificant squads. At one encampment of two regiments, the companies were necessary to combine the two (fourteen in all) in order to make a four-company battalion of sufficient size to illustrate some of the movements in the "drill regulations."

Fourth—Organization of companies when practicable into twelve-company regiments, otherwise into eight-company regiments, or, if the companies are too widely separated for regimental organization, then into four-company battalions.

Fifth—The maintenance of the San Francisco of a four-company battalion, to be uniformed and designated as artillery, and which, in addition to being drilled as infantry, shall receive instruction in practice in the handling of heavy guns. The value of such a force as an auxiliary to the regular artillery in case of war is well recognized, and the proximity of the first, forming the defense of the harbor of San Francisco, and the excellent material in the city for such a force seem to be favorable conditions.

Sixth—Provision for examination for appointment in any staff department and for appointment on the regimental staff.

Seventh—Selection of company officers for a term of four years, instead of two, as at present.

Eighth—A physical examination upon enlistment in the National Guard and upon every re-enlistment.

Ninth—Provision for permanent camping grounds, on the northern or southern, and on the southern part of the State.

Tenth—Provision for a good rifle-range in the vicinity of San Francisco, and for encouragement for long-range firing.

Eleventh—Provision for State armories, beginning first with the larger cities and towns.

Twelfth—A complete equipment for every company in the National Guard, including serviceable Springfield rifles.

Thirteenth—It is recommended that, in army drills, more attention be paid to the school of the soldier. This drill should be by squad, under the non-commissioned officers, who should gain knowledge and confidence, and the men in turn get more and better instruction in the school of the soldier, which is the foundation of good drill.

A. L. Drunn Beats His Wife Because She Was Not Speedy.

VANDALIA (Ill.), Oct. 23.—A. L. Drunn and wife, having from St. Louis, have been making a tour of Illinois and Indiana on bicycles. Near this city last evening Drunn became angry with his wife because she could not keep up with him, and knocked her off her wheel and beat her shamefully. She was found in an almost senseless condition by the roadside and brought here. Later she was sent to St. Louis. Drunn was arrested.

"Richard Roe" Confesses to a Plot Against Judge Orlinton.

FREEDOM, Oct. 23.—A scandal plot to murder Judge W. D. Orlinton and blow up his house came to light today. It was planned by a man whom he had sentenced to jail. About two days ago Judge Orlinton lost a valuable buggy horse, apparently from colic, but is now believed to have been poisoned. Today he received a letter through the postoffice signed "Richard Roe," in which the writer says he poisoned the animal out of revenge because he had been sent to jail without cause. The writer further states that he had tried to poison the family, but failed and had decided to blow up the house. This, he said, he had done by placing a stick of stovewood loaded with gunpowder in the fireplace. He closed by saying he has had revenge enough and warns them of the loaded stick, stating that he did not wish to kill the cook.

THE BLYTHE ESTATE.

Mrs. Hinckley is Entitled to Have it Returned.

Associated Press Special-Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 23.—The litigation over Mrs. Blythe's estate seems to be as good as ended. Probate Judge Coffey today ruled that Florence Blythe Hinckley is entitled to have the property distributed to her as soon as possible. Judge Coffey granted her application for a decree of distribution and a formal decree will be made out immediately. The host of opposing counsel in the case immediately rushed off to the Supreme Court building, where they are expected to appear before the court. The case is expected to be decided in a few days.

Flight of a British Ship at the Golden Gate.

Associated Press Special-Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 23.—The British ship Evesham Abbey, in ballast from Yokohama for this port, arrived off the Golden Gate today. The ship was seen by the pilot boat Lady Mine to proceed to Portland. Later in the evening the steamer Celia arrived and reported the vessel on the four-fathom bar making signals for assistance. The bar was breaking badly. It is believed that the vessel came in too far and had to drop her anchors and signaled for assistance so that she could get an offing. British Columbia Wilds to be Populated with Sturdy Farmers.

Associated Press Special-Service.

VICTORIA (B. C.), Oct. 23.—Rev. Simon Saagstad, a pioneer minister of the Lutheran church in Minnesota, with his little band of eighty Norwegian farmers, have got thus far on their way to Bella Coola, where they, with about three thousand of their countrymen, propose establishing a new Norway colony in the British Columbia Mountains and fjords, so like to those of their own native land. These Norwegians purpose engaging in mining, farming and stock raising, and are well equipped. They are the first to take advantage of the British Columbia government's new terms to settlers.

The Norwegian colony is a sturdy lot of men and promise to make good settlers. Their families and friends will follow as soon as they have completed building the houses, and the colony will have a population of about three thousand souls and will have a capital of $500,000.

De Laveaga's Bequests to be Contested Under the Statutes.

Associated Press Special-Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 23.—The charitable bequests of the late De Laveaga, amounting to $775,000, are to be contested on the ground that they violate section 1313 of the Civil Code of California, which provides that no bequests shall collectively exceed one-third of the estate of a testator leaving legal heirs. Where there is such a bequest, the bequest is void, and the estate shall be reduced pro rata until the aggregate equals only one-third of the estate.

Laveaga's entire estate is valued at $2,000,000, and the bequest is valued at $775,000. The bequest is to be contested on the ground that they violate section 1313 of the Civil Code of California, which provides that no bequests shall collectively exceed one-third of the estate of a testator leaving legal heirs.

Yesterday's Quake Disturbed the People of San Diego.

By Telegram to the Times.

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 23.—(Special Dispatch.) There was a lively earthquake shock here at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. The people were startled, and many of their houses and business places, expecting serious trouble. The shock lasted about fifteen seconds. An English guest at Hotel Brewster almost jumped down two flights of stairs in his eagerness to reach the street. The quake was felt in the city, and the people were well high panic-stricken. The severity of the shock broke the guy wire supporting a flagstaff.

A dispatch from Alpine, thirty miles east of here, reports a very severe shock. The course of the shock appears to have been from southwest to northeast. A lady at the Hotel Florence was of such a decided character that it claimed instant and general attention.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT.

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 23.—This city and neighboring towns were visited this afternoon by a series of earthquakes of more than ordinary severity. The first occurred at 3:03 o'clock, and was followed at intervals of a quarter of a minute by several others, the last being one of the strongest experienced hereabouts since the coming of Americans.

People in brick houses swarmed into the streets, hearing the startling grind of brick and mortar, and in some cases the walls crack. A dull sound was heard in all parts of the city immediately preceding the quake, and the sound was heard from whence these mysterious noises proceeded were not shaken down, nor was any damage reported as having occurred. A Female Terror Causes a Panic in a Church.

Associated Press Special-Service.

STEUBENVILLE (O.), Oct. 23.—A sensational and dramatic occurrence happened last night at a meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society in the Second Presbyterian Church of this city. A woman, who was a middle-aged Irish woman, and a devout Catholic, she has become partially demented lately through exposure and drink, having kept a room in a saloon, was because of her physical prowess, the queen of the Irish miners living around. She came on no one to her room, and it has frequently required six policemen to handle her. No one or two policemen ever had sufficient nerve to attempt to take her to the saloon. Her reputation is known to all in this city.

Honora was passing the church last night, and seeing outside the Christian Endeavor Society, yelled: "The A.P.A.'s and Orangemen—I'll make them go."

Into the church she rushed and up the aisle. The women with blanched faces began to flee to another part of the church and the few men present were afraid of the crazy woman. After cursing and shouting for some minutes, the police appeared and she was hauled out of the church kicking and struggling. The endeavorers, who had been interrupted in their devotional exercises, sang "Safe in the Arms of Jesus," and offered prayer because of their deliverance from harm. Honora had started to upset the women who were present, and she will probably be sent to the asylum.

THE EPISCOPALIANS.

SECOND DAY'S SESSION OF THE CONVENTION.

The Division of the Diocese Discussed—Reports of Missionary Work—An Interesting Essay.

The second day's session of the Episcopal Convention convened yesterday morning in St. Paul's Church.

The services commenced with the celebration of the holy communion, Bishop Nichols presiding.

At the close of the service, the bishop delivered a sermon on the subject of the division of the diocese, giving statistics which proved that the new diocese that has been proposed would exceed in strength the several organized dioceses which exist at the present day.

After the service the delegates and such of the congregation as wished, adjourned to the Guild Hall, where the roll was called.

A committee of three, consisting of Rev. Mr. Trew of East Los Angeles, Rev. Mr. Deaton of Riverside, and Rev. Mr. Baird of Los Angeles, were appointed to memorialize the annual convention, so that other laymen, beside those appointed as representatives, might be present to take part in the proceedings of the convention.

The meeting then adjourned to meet again at 2 p.m.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The afternoon meeting was not largely attended outside of the clergy and lay delegates, but was an interesting one.

The meeting was called to order by Bishop Nichols, who announced that it was customary, at such a time and place, for reports to be made upon matters which were of interest to the clergy.

Dean Restarick of San Diego was therefore called upon to speak briefly of the work done there, and the new church which is to be built at Coronado.

The reports of the missionaries, who are members of the convention, were called for, and Rev. Mr. Freer, told of what had taken place in Santa Barbara. Among other things, he stated that the residence of the place were not disposed to accept the emotional religion of the traveling evangelists, who come to hold revival meetings and so forth and accordingly this effort to spread the gospel was not successful.

Rev. Mr. Devo of Santa Barbara then spoke briefly of the field at Coronado. This, he says, is a peculiar field, as the population is continually shifting and making the work difficult.

The different denominations built churches there at one time, but now find it difficult to support a pastor. It has been necessary, so far, to conduct the services of the Episcopal Church in a store, but with the erection of the new church building the congregation will doubtless be materially increased.

Mr. Hansen of San Diego, who is a candidate for holy orders, read an interesting report of the "Lay-readers' Association," dealing with their work and prospects.

The essay for the day was then called for. The subject was "The Cumulative Evidence of the Scripture to the Church Idea," and was read by Rev. Mr. Fletcher of Pomona.

A FALSE FRIEND.

It is a common thing to have Democrats refer to their party as one which makes a specialty of taking the workmen under its sheltering wing, while the Republican party, we are asked to believe, is at the service of plutocrats and big manufacturers. This is twaddle. What does the tariff legislation of the late Democratic Congress show? The Sugar Trust was favored, at the expense of the sugar consumer, which means every man, woman and child in the country, while a bounty which made possible the employment of hundreds of thousands of men in producing American sugar was removed. The woolen manufacturers were favored at the expense of a million wool-growers.

What nonsense to assert that the reduction of duties under this tariff will be a relief to the farmer, the artisan, and the workman! The duty on every article which the farmer produces has been greatly reduced, but the articles the farmer, the artisan and the workman have to buy are by no means reduced in the same degree. The great reductions made by this bill are in articles of luxury. Here is a list of a few articles, with the reduction in duty under the present tariff. It will be noticed that they are scarcely such articles as are consumed by the laboring classes, by mechanics or by farmers, to any considerable extent:

	Imports, 1893.	Reduced Per cent.
Paintings and statuary	$22,966,765	$432,657 30
Decorated china-ware	6,938,000	2,333,957 32
Ornate feathers and flowers	1,619,101	265,330 15
Plate and cut glass	1,000,000	215,667 21
Jewelry	696,462	76,000 11
Kid gloves	400,000	87,000 22

A BARKENIDE FEAST.

The farmers are getting a good chance to judge of the beauties of Democratic legislation. Wool is by no means the only product that has gone down to ruinously low prices. When the Cleveland campaign was under way we were promised $1.25 wheat. Perhaps it was $1.25 a ton that was intended. The price seems to be tending in that direction.

According to the report of the Kansas Department of Agriculture, more than 10 per cent of the wheat raised in that State in 1893 was fed to the hogs and other farm animals. This was more profitable than to sell it for 35 cents a bushel.

It seems, then, that it is not the farmers, but the hogs, who are enjoying the banquet which was promised as a result of Democratic rule. Even this, however, cannot last long, and the hogs will have to starve unless we get another change.

A good many of the farmers who are suffering from this condition of affairs have themselves to blame for it. They were doing well, but they wanted a "change"—and they got it. Some of them—especially in the hog-husbandry State—also tried Populism, and the result was to say the least, not a brilliant success.

Will these farmers, and their brethren in other States, again run after false gods, or will they stand by the party which has fulfilled its promises and made this country what it was before the Democrats began to undo the good work of thirty years?

Mr. McLachlan addressed a large and enthusiastic audience at Pomona last evening. His remarks were listened to with the closest attention, and elicited frequent and hearty applause. His comparison of the McKinley and the Wilson tariffs was very decidedly to the disadvantage of the latter, and was based on facts and figures which cannot be explained away nor disproved. He declared himself unequivocally on the harbor question, in favor of San Pedro, and with equal definiteness and emphasis in opposition to railroad extortion and monopoly. Mr. McLachlan is waging a winning battle in behalf of the people, and of the best interests of the South Congress District.

McLACHLAN AND THE HARBOR.

Some of the Democratic newspapers are falsely claiming that James McLachlan, the Republican candidate for Congress from the Sixth District, is not in favor of a free harbor at San Pedro but is an advocate of Santa Monica. This assertion is malicious and unwarranted, as well as false. Mr. McLachlan has declared his position on the harbor question on many occasions, with frankness and manliness. Before his nomination he stated unequivocally his preference for San Pedro, and has declared his position with even greater emphasis since the campaign opened. Addressing an audience at Santa Monica, a few days ago, he frankly told his hearers that he favored the improvement of the San Pedro harbor by the government, and would lend his aid in that behalf if elected. No better proof of Mr. McLachlan's position on this important question could be adduced, if proof were needed. Had he been disposed to play the demagogue, he might have evaded a direct discussion of the issue at Santa Monica. But he chose, rather, the straightforward and manly course of stating his position in a manner which left no room for misinterpretation. Mr. McLachlan may lose the votes of a few Southern Pacific henchmen by this course, but he will gain many votes from those who admire courage and honesty in politics as in private affairs.

THE CASE AGAINST J. H. BUDD.

Whatever James H. Budd may be able to prove regarding the division of the property, in the case of his unfortunate ward, Nancy Neff, the fact of his moral turpitude remains unchallenged, and seems likely so to remain. Up to the present time no denial or defense, worthy the name, has come from Mr. Budd or his supporters. The charges which have been brought against him are of so grave a character that he must either disprove them or go down in infamy before them.

Mr. Budd may be able to clear himself from the charge of obtaining a portion of the dead girl's property by dishonorable means. It is certainly to be hoped that he can do so. He may be able to show that there are some slight inaccuracies in the transcription of the Oregon court records. But such showing will not relieve him from the moral obloquy of having betrayed an innocent girl, to whom he should have been a friend and protector.

In other columns of The Times this morning are reprinted from the San Francisco Post some of the letters written by Mr. Budd to members of the Neff family. These letters are such as no honorable married man could have written. Aside from the other aspects of the case, they convict the writer of a degree of moral baseness such as unfit him for the office of Governor. Unless Mr. Budd can prove beyond all doubt that the story of his relations with Nancy Neff is a fabrication from beginning to end, every decent voter in the State of California should rebuke his candidacy by an adverse ballot. If the story be only half true, it should be enough to defeat Mr. Budd by an overwhelming majority.

When Mr. Budd can prove that the charges made against him are false, The Times will give publicity to his proofs.

The astuteness of free-trade theorists is never better exhibited than in the testimony they produce to sustain their fading theory. For instance, a free-trade cotemporary sets up the absurd claim that protection does not protect the American farmer, and attempts to sustain this claim in the face of an offer from a Canadian dealer in hay to reduce his price to an American importer $3 per ton, because of a reduction in our tariff. The reduced duty enabled the Canadian dealer to undersell the American farmer in the latter's own market, and so, of course, reduced the demand for, and consequently the value of, the American farmer's product. Free trade attorneys are endeavoring to convince the American farmer that the hypothetical "markets of the world," which absorb less than one-tenth of his product, will compensate him for the loss of his home market, which absorbs the other nine-tenths. If American farmers were all fools, the task of the free-trade attorneys would be an easy one.

Senator Hill is discussing national affairs with a vengeance. Speaking at Yonkers, N. Y., Monday night, he declared that the Republicans had "run the country into debt, a legacy that was left to their successors, the Democrats, who had to undertake the duty of paying off the bills." To this he attributed the hard times which have accompanied the Democratic administration. Even the dullest of the Senator's auditors must have known that the Republicans reduced the national debt many millions of dollars during the Harrison administration, while the debt has been increased by over $50,000,000 since Cleveland's inauguration. Mr. Hill is evidently aware that he can win, if at all, only by bluff and bluster. He is working this racket for all it is worth.

A free-trade organ declares that "free traders never tell the farmers that low tariffs enhance the price of agricultural products." The same organ, on October 18, told its readers that wheat and wool were higher under the Walker (low) tariff than ever before; that "from 1832 to 1842 (revenue tariff) farm products rose in price;" "from 1847 to 1861 (Walker tariff and lower tariff of 1857) farm products rose," etc., etc. But perhaps the organ was not telling this to the farmers. Very likely it was addressing its remarks to the marines.

A farmer living at Sugar Grove, a small way-station on the Chicago and Iowa railroad, fifty miles west of Chicago, made a partial contract before the passage of the Gorman-Wilson tariff bill to sell one hundred tons of hay to a dealer in Dalton, Mass. After the passage of the new tariff, the Dalton dealer canceled the contract, alleging, as a reason, that he could obtain his hay from $2 to $3 per ton cheaper by importing it from Canada. Free traders declare that the tariff affords no protection to the American farmer; but this Illinois farmer knows better.

There may be a deficit in the national finances, under Democratic management, but there is evidently no deficit in the fund raised to re-elect Chairman Wilson. It is stated on good authority that $30,000 has already been sent into his district, and that more will be forthcoming as needed. Mr. Wilson must have an "indorsement," even if it does come high.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

Additions to the Permanent Exhibit.

The banana grove that surrounds the exhibit at the Chamber of Commerce was donated by O. B. Roberts of Hollywood, who states that his grove of three-fourths of an acre is loaded with fruit from which he has sold thus far this season 100 bunches of fairly good bananas.

The blonches weighed four pounds each are exhibited by J. Rodger & Sons of Santa Paula. They contain about one barrel of condensed tarr.

The Chinese sugar factory has placed in the chamber exhibits of their best sugar in its various stages of manufacture.

The State Experimental Station shows specimens of the several grains and cereals raised in this vicinity, and J. H. Lampson installs a table with oranges, apples, pears, peaches, dried fruits, potatoes, corn, pumpkins, beans, melons and other products of the soil.

The attendance at the chamber still keeps up. Six hundred people are expected to see the exhibit. Many Eastern visitors are registered, who express their admiration of the exhibit, but want photographs of the chamber. One gentleman has so taken with the quarters that he has offered to give a two-hour concert daily on the piano, if the instrument will be loaned to him. He is to be made to accept his offer, and add another attraction to the chamber.

THE BOY PHENOMENON.

He Will Appear at the Los Angeles Theater Next Sunday.

On Sunday evening next the "Boy Phenomenon" will appear at the Los Angeles Theater. In one of his marvelous demonstrations he will produce a table of one yard square, covered with products without irrigation in the Gardenia district.

Mrs. Ed. Ayers of Tropic exhibits a case of prunes. The prunes are of the variety known as the "Black Diamond," and are of fine specimen of stock beet weighing sixty pounds, raised without irrigation.

The boy phenomenon demonstrates his great power on the public stage, under the eyes of an audience of thousands. He is one of the most remarkable phenomena of the age. He is a boy of about ten years of age, and is a native of the Hawaiian Islands. He was employed as head chemist for a big sugar plantation, has returned and is with his family at his old residence, No. 1226 Pennsylvania street, Los Angeles.

Dr. H. W. Wales and Miss Zella Belle Ross are to be married this evening, the ceremony to take place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. George Arnold on Soto street.

Miss Jennie Wiley, one of the teachers of the city schools, is quite ill and confined to her home at No. 1969 Michigan avenue.

George Young and family of Liverpool, England, and Mr. and Mrs. E. Hart of Galib, N. M., arrived a few days since and are at the Mt. Pleasant Hotel.

A Midnight Fire.

The house occupied by Mrs. Wernot, a widow, at No. 626 Mission road, was burned to the ground at midnight last night. She had a sick daughter, who was in one of the front rooms, and had stepped into a rear room for a moment when, hearing a noise, she hurried back only to find a lamp had overturned and the place was all afire. She was unable to save more than a little of the furniture. The house was valued at $250 and the furniture at $400. There was only a small insurance.

Mrs. Wernot is peculiarly unfortunate, for she was burned out before about a year ago.

Was Insane from Drink.

Coroner Cates held an inquest yesterday in the case of Jean Bonard, a Frenchman, who shot himself at Arcadia and Los Angeles streets Monday afternoon. It appeared that the deceased was a well-known absentee at San Bernardino, and committed the act while temporarily insane, as a result of drink. The father and mother of Bonard are living in Paris, and are said to belong to the French nobility.

FIELD OF POLITICS.

Populists Complete Their City Ticket.

One Instance Where the Democrats Did Not Embrace Fusion Eagerly.

Schnabel to Remain on the People's Party Ticket as Nominee for Mayor—Republican City Candidates.

The Populists were somewhat disappointed yesterday, to find that the Democrats had not embraced fusion as eagerly as they had hoped. The result of the Seventh Ward primary gives the opponent of Mr. Strom, candidate for re-election as Councilman, a majority. It is reported that the successful ticket being as follows: O. T. Johnson, J. Y. Bernard, B. F. Lander, Frank Ruis, C. R. Taylor, S. Dutton, George A. Grubb, C. Alexander, J. J. Neimura, E. L. Grubb, H. L. Hopkins, T. Weindanger, C. Von derkublen, O. B. Phillips, George W. Shiel, B. Butterfield, J. L. Moore, John Gough, Bernard Smith, C. E. Bollinger, E. E. Bell, G. A. Cutler, Robert Owens, H. E. Storrs, C. V. Bouquet, J. B. Langston, J. C. M. Spencer, W. S. Arnold, W. H. Peterson, G. J. Kuback, E. H. Pierce, W. Rogers, Peter A. Reel, S. N. Sheets, George N. Lockwood.

There was considerable discussion yesterday about the strategy regarding the prospective nominee for Mayor. The principal candidates are now Frank Rader of the Third Ward and H. C. Austin and E. L. Kicks of the Fourth Ward, with H. J. Shouters as a possible leader. It is acknowledged that the fight will undoubtedly narrow down to a contest between the Third and Fourth wards, but the chances of any one of the candidates named being an easy winner seem decidedly doubtful.

The anti-Lindley workers in the Third Ward were jubilant yesterday over their second victory, and the Carlisle faction was correspondingly "sick." The count gave the straight ticket a comfortable winning majority.

Eighth Ward Democrats.

THEY REFUSE TO ACCEPT SAVAGE FOR COUNCILMAN.

There is a revolt among the respectable Democrats of the Eighth Ward against the nomination of the notorious Tom Savage for Councilman. They say the nomination was brought about by the worst methods of "boss" politics, and they say that they refuse to be put in the attitude of endorsing a man who has been so often and so publicly rebuffed by the voters of the Eighth Ward. And I further announce myself an independent Democratic candidate, and represent the decent element of said ward. PETER KERNAN.

McLachlan at Pomona.

THE CONGRESSIONAL CANDIDATE RECEIVED WITH ENTHUSIASM.

POMONA, Oct. 23.—(Special Correspondence.) Even as early as 3 o'clock in the afternoon things began to look lively, with the coming of the train from the Hotel Palomar, and along the principal thoroughfares of town; also a goodly number, both of men and women, moving in a brisk manner along the business street, as if in anticipation of a kind of gala day, or rather night; and by the time the train arrived, the excitement was at its height. The committee met at 7 o'clock on the corner of Second street, and the colored lights flashed heavenward from the opera-house corner, the town was filled with moving humanity, whooping it up for all it was worth from that time until 8 o'clock, when, as many as could, repaired to the hall to hear James McLachlan, the Republican candidate, and several of the county nominees, who accompanied him, speak.

Invitations in "dodger" style, with the name of the gentleman composing the Reception Committee, and the signatures of the president and secretary of the local Republican club of Pomona, are being distributed and given out from the public bulletin board, the gift of the People's Store of this city, has just been placed in position, and the position building, christened with the large Republican poster from the County Central Committee, announcing this appointment for James McLachlan, the Republican candidate, and the names of the other candidates, has been used to persuade every voter in and around Pomona to attend this rally, and judging from reports, as well as the cheering and shouting, and the demonstration, it is a safe assertion to announce that the affair will prove successful and satisfactory, even beyond the expectations of the most sanguine of the club members and its abettors for to crown their endeavors, the "weather clerk" now promises a most lovely night.

LATER.—The reception tendered James McLachlan, at the Hotel Palomar, this afternoon, amounted to an ovation. It was a most successful and satisfactory affair, and the Republican Club of Pomona, and was in the hands of a committee of fifteen prominent citizens. The parlors of the hotel were artistically decorated, and the hours of 3 and 5 o'clock a stream of callers pressed in and showed their good feeling for the Republican candidate by hearty expressions of goodwill and assistance of support. The hall-boys, the waiters came from all points of the compass—from Cucamonga, Claremont and all the valley round. The reception is crowded by all who have been invited, and the hall is filled with a large number of the candidates of the county.

The Reception Committee was composed of John L. Means, A. G. Whiting, A. I. Stewart, L. W. Swales, E. Brown, J. S. Beck, C. P. Paine, F. A. Brown, J. F. Robinson, S. I. Ford, J. W. Stringfield, F. K. Adams, Frank Vejar, A. H. Turf, T. L. Thrall, and others. The reception was held at the opera-house, which was attended by a large number of the citizens of Pomona, and the Pomona Republican Club, president.

The county candidates with Mr. McLachlan's party, were first introduced, and each spoke for a few minutes, and then, in payment for the full sum due his largest creditor, amounting to $100, and paid in cash $200 to various creditors for labor and other claims.

This appeared to satisfy the convention, and by a vote Schnabel was exonerated, and his name was therefore left on the ticket.

The concluding nominations were then made as follows: First Ward—For Councilman, W. H. Neimura; for member of the Board of Education, G. L. Dean. Second Ward—For Councilman, G. F. Benn; for member of the Board of Education, W. F. Wheeler. Third Ward—For Councilman, G. M. Donald; for member of the Board of Education, Mrs. M. M. Elliott. Fourth Ward—For Councilman, M. S. Reed; for member of the Board of Education, W. S. Robinson. Fifth Ward—For Councilman, J. Ashman; for member of the Board of Education, J. F. Torrance. Sixth Ward—For Councilman, H. M. Schnabel; for member of the Board of Education, D. E. Fulton. Seventh Ward—For Councilman, J. C. Sharp; for member of the Board of Education, W. S. Robinson. Eighth Ward—For Councilman, H. M. Schnabel; for member of the Board of Education, D. E. Fulton. Ninth Ward—For Councilman, J. C. Sharp; for member of the Board of Education, W. S. Robinson.

The question of endorsing Mr. Davis for City Attorney created considerable debate. Anthony Schwamm made a speech in favor of endorsing him, and things moved that he be endorsed. The motion finally prevailed by almost a two-thirds vote.

His labors completed, the Populist City Convention adjourned sine die.

Hard at Work.

Because I believe in individualism as opposed to paternalism.
Because I believe that the people should support the government and not the government the people.
Because I fail to see any virtuous principle in a party which caters to every wild and hare-brained theory, gives encouragement to lawlessness and cohabits with anarchists.
Because I do not believe in encouraging debtors, however unfortunate, in a demand that the government pay their debts.
Because I believe that the party has no valid reasons for its existence.

WHY I AM NOT A PROHIBITIONIST.

Because I do not believe in saving souls by machinery.
Because I believe that prohibition is the worst enemy of the temperance movement at the present time.

Because I believe that the idea of political prohibition leads the victim of strong drink to rely neither upon himself nor on the Almighty, but solely upon the absence of the law.
Because I do not care to be a politician by standing up for a doubtful principle when there are living issues to be met.

Political Points.

Senator White will speak tonight at the new Turner Hall to the Democrats of the city.
Maj. Donnell and H. A. Pierce addressed a large and enthusiastic meeting at Santa Monica Monday night.

The Republican delegation from the Second Ward will caucus tonight in the rooms of the Board of Public Works, City Hall, at 8 o'clock. Members of the Fourth Ward delegation are requested to meet in room No. 21, Bryson Block, this evening at the same hour.

Republican meetings were held last night at Artesia and Pico Heights, H. A. Pierce and George M. Holton speaking at the former and James B. Smith at the latter named place. Maj. Donnell and Judge Wilde also spoke at Downey.

E. E. Danforth, one of the several candidates for Mayor, issued a circular in which he called attention to his position on matters of public interest. He states in this circular that he is a candidate on purely business principles and that he believes that the person selected for the office to which he aspires, should have the greatest good to the greatest number at heart; that inducements should be held out to manufacturers to locate in the city to advance the commercial importance of the town and the general interests of the community.

LETTERS TO THE TIMES.

White Sentiments of a Black Man.
GLENDORA (Cal.), Oct. 22.—(To the Editor of The Times.) I venture to direct you a few lines appreciative of your recent cartoon of Mr. Budd, the Democratic candidate for Governor, fraternizing with the colored brother for his vote. It is one of the most striking cartoons of the campaign, and caused a little amusement among your readers here.

Being a member of the colored race, and having felt the crack of the slave-driver's whip, I feel that I have a right to say a few words in regard to the attitude of Mr. Budd's party toward the colored race, and the colored lights flashed heavenward from the opera-house corner, the town was filled with moving humanity, whooping it up for all it was worth from that time until 8 o'clock, when, as many as could, repaired to the hall to hear James McLachlan, the Republican candidate, and several of the county nominees, who accompanied him, speak.

It cost the government a million of dollars to sell a million of dollars to the Democrats from selling their brothers and sons. Passing without comment the attitude of that party toward the black man before the colored race, the same party proposed the enactment of the Federal election law—a measure enacted by the Republican party to throw further safeguards around the black man's right to vote.

In short, the Democratic party has fought to the bitter end every measure brought forward to better the black man's condition. What is the attitude of Mr. Budd's party toward the colored race at the present? Time, which is ever changing, men and things, bearing on the evolution of people and parties, have made it impossible for the colored man to be reviewed by the people as a dangerous commodity. What business man in Los Angeles would take into his employ as cashier a young man who subjected to having his acts while in the employ of the firm he had left investigated? The people of California, and the North and South by and large, without exception, protect the constitutional amendments nullified. By nullification our race has lost thirty-nine representatives in the national Legislature, and thirty-nine electors in the electoral college. The people of California, as clubs to beat the brains out of Northern industrialists, will club the brains out of a million Northern workingmen out of a job. If the country had protected our political rights with our thirty-nine votes we would have saved it from the infection of Cleveland and the Wilson bill.

We would have cast those votes in the interest of American industries and the American laboring man. We would have voted to protect the wool-growers of Ohio, the fruit-growers of California, as well as the sugar-planters.

THE LETTERS.

James H. Budd's Compromising Epistles.

He Wrote to His Victim's Parents, Telling How Poor Nancy Neff Died in the Pesthouse.

Correspondence that Convicts Him of Crime—More from the Record of the Supreme Court of the State of Oregon.

(San Francisco Evening Post, October 22, 1894.) On Saturday the Post laid before the people of California the certified copy of a complaint filed in the Supreme Court of Oregon. It was a plain, lawyer-like document, and this paper made no effort to do it by calling names. The arraignment was a severe one.

It showed that James H. Budd had been the ward of a girl too young and innocent to know the world; it showed that he brought her to San Francisco, and placed her in a room on Sixth street, where a baby was born, and where the baby died. It showed that James H. Budd, two or three days after the death of the child, had written to the parents of the house of this city. It showed that on the night before she died, she signed a will with a cross purporting to give all her property to him.

The witnesses to that will were shown to have disappeared shortly after it was made, and there have been no other witnesses. The court record also shows that James H. Budd was charged with making an effort to defraud the aged parents of his victim out of some property.

The story is a sad one; it is also revolting. It is not one that the Post likes to publish.

But it is true, and the man who is concerned in it has applied to be Governor with the record against him. A paper that had the facts of this case, and published it, would not only be doing a public duty, but it would be doing a service to the State. The Democratic managers that, ignorant of the story set forth here, tried to ignore it, would be doing a disservice to the State in their duty to the people if they do not take James H. Budd out of the ticket.

Joseph P. Kelly, whose reputation is clean and pure compared with that of James H. Budd, was republished by the local Democracy on the unsupported testimony of one man. Do the records of the Supreme Court of the State of Oregon, the letters that Budd himself has written, and the proved evidence of many men not compare with the word of Max Popper?

No defense has been made of the story published on Saturday. An attorney denied the charges of fraud in the laid cases on Budd's behalf; but he was too honorable to seek to defend him for his treatment of that poor little girl, who died in the pesthouse of San Francisco. Still he called Budd an honorable man. That, it may be presumed, was done for political effect. We shall see whether Budd's honor has. The Democratic organ here attempts to deny part of the story, but falls signally, and would not because it was so weak it convicted him. Nor would the other papers publish his explanation for the same reason.

The record is against James H. Budd, and it may not be disputed. The courts are open to Mr. Budd, and damages for injury to his reputation may be gained if the story is untrue. Criminal proceedings could be instituted against the publisher of the libel, and the jail is the only place for a man who would, for whatever purpose, conceal a tale of the sort published on Saturday of James H. Budd.

The story is true, and it has not been half told yet. The story of the girl, charged to him, and the story of the gentleman of the reputation of the attorney who came to the defense of Budd should have called him an honorable man. No honorable married man could write the letters that James H. Budd did, nor could he do what Budd did. It is to be feared that the attorney used the word in his name Antony meaning.

The letters are authentic. James H. Budd's father was called to prove that they were in his son's handwriting, which would lead one to believe that James H. Budd had himself denied that he wrote them.

The person to whom James H. Budd refers in these letters is Nancy Neff, his victim.

On Oct. 15, 1876, he wrote to Nancy's brother George from Stockton: "Your thought of me, as shown by your letter, are very pleasing. . . . I am sorry that I cannot be with you now and shoot ducks, but it may not be long before all will be changed, and I shall visit all. Take care of Nancy, and don't allow anyone to abuse her on any account, or I will be angry."

Last night I swore off drinking in Stockton adieu until I see more of you. Again asking you to be a good boy and take care of Nancy, I am, your brother, JAMES H. BUD.

It would be well at this time to bear in mind that he was married in 1873. On Feb. 18, 1877, he wrote: "Dear Brother, Sister, Father and Mother: Yesterday I sent you a letter. When I wrote it I was heart-broken. I am now nearly crazy with grief. Fate and the gods have treated me cruelly. Joy has departed, and grief has taken its place."

Our Nancy came to San Francisco last month. I met her at her home. On her face was the flush of health. Never had I seen her better, never had I loved her more. She was the personification of health, beauty and grace. We laughed and talked and talked over old times, talked of Lewis River, of happy Oregon, of you all, and dear Umpy."

A little over a week since she telegraphed she was sick. I went below and stayed with her Wednesday night and Thursday night, during all of which time she lay in a burning fever. Thursday night I came to Stockton. Saturday, a week ago yesterday (the 10th), I got a telegram that she had the smallpox.

After describing her appearance from disfigurement of constant smallpox, he said: "She then got quiet and peaceful. She said, 'Father, mother, George, Mary and Jimmy, you are all—' and seemed to be conversing with us. In this state she lay back on her pillow, and in peace passed away to her Almighty Father, her last earthly act being to shake hands and bid me good-by. On her lips her dying words were of you all and of me."

The robe was fastened around her dear neck with my Bet's Pin, which she loved so well. . . . Clipped in her hands was my picture, which she loved, and she, like as I have often seen her, tired and asleep. Don't let the parents. Don't fret dear brother and sister. Though you have lost a daughter, a sister, you have left a brother, a son. While I, miserable I, am alone in the world—all alone—

Alone on this wide, wide sea, And no one to take pity on My soul in agony.

What shall I do? I want to hide my face from man. Your son and brother, JAMES H. BUD.

STOCKTON, May 18.

Dear Brother and Sister: This morning I wrote to you and promised to write to-night. You see I keep my word. . . . As soon as I can get the coin I shall start for a trip to Oregon. Many families are leaving here for Oregon. I know it is to be the State. Father is very anxious to have me take a trip for my health. Father has given up drinking again and is O.K. I have drank hardly anything since February. Your brother, JAMES H. BUD.

In one of his letters to "Dear Sister, Mary he says: "Looking over the past, how many things we see to regret. Had we to live over again how different would one act! How much unhappiness flows from one's being so bound as to be unable to follow the dictates and longings of one's heart. Would to God I had known Nancy Neff sooner. Then we could have been together now. I hope. The past is past, we at least cannot change it. How I did love her none can tell. Life, ambition, hope of reward here and hereafter, of heaven itself, I would have sacrificed gladly, willingly. She knew this, and not for a moment crossed her mind the shadow of a doubt.

These letters require no comment. Mr. Budd was a married man when he wrote them. But, with the knowledge that his victim died in the pesthouse of San Francisco at the age of 19 years, the attorney who called Mr. Budd an honorable man may be asked to compare the treatment poor Nancy Neff received with that given by the Sykes to the other Nancy of sad history.

THE FACTS OF THE CASE.

The "Post's" Editorial Review of the Case Against Budd.

James H. Budd, Democratic nominee for Governor, has answered the charge that he betrayed his ward, Nancy Neff, and attempted to defraud her parents of their property, by changing the production of the record of the case against him. The Post has already submitted a portion of the record, and has published a certified copy of the proceedings had in a suit against Budd. In that action he could have proved his innocence of the charges. He did not do so. He compromised, abandoned his rights and will have the land ward, and took fifty acres of the land in dispute as compensation for his legal services. As to the record in the case of Wells et al. vs. Neff et al., we will also accommodate Mr. Budd. He claims that that record will vindicate him. Let us see about it.

This action was brought long subsequent to the dismissal of the first suit. It involved the partition of the very land which Budd had sought to get through the Wells et al. case. Not being able to compromise with the plaintiffs, he was compelled to defend his title. It was in this case that the letters from Budd to the Neffs, sister, and brother, and the dead Nancy, were introduced. It was in this case that the sworn testimony concerning Budd with the death of the girl and the making of her will was produced. These letters are of record, and will be published. The reader of them will easily be able to judge whether an honorable man, with a wife and child, could have written such letters. Budd claims to be an honorable man. Let us see about that, also.

The truth of this whole matter is that James H. Budd for five years struggled to shake off the record that was made in the case of Wells vs. Neff. Forced finally to come into court and defend himself, he pleaded every technical objection to the facts known to the law. He never met the charges with the indignation of an honest man. In the first case, where he had a chance to prove his innocence, he moved to strike out portions of the amended complaint and to transfer to the United States Court and then he compromised and dismissed the suit. Are these the acts of an honorable man smarting under false charges?

The Post sets the facts down more in sorrow than in anger. It gives them to the public in pursuance of a bounden duty, not for the purpose of springing a political sensation.

Judged by his speeches, the platform upon which he is running, and the foul and dirty campaign he and his agents have made, James H. Budd is unfit to become Governor of California. Whether he is personally unfit will be decided after the sworn record in the case of Wells vs. Neff has been laid before the people. If there is then an honorable man in the State, the father of a virtuous daughter, the brother of an innocent sister, or a man who enjoys the respect of an honest wife, who can vote for him, we shall know it. The Post will be content to abide the issue.

In this matter we are performing a disagreeable duty. We do not approve of the crowd indulgence. Budd himself has forced an examination of his record. If he can be elected, now that the thin veil which obscures the awful moral character of the man has been withdrawn, California certainly harbors a curious lot of people.

HIT WITH AN EGG.

The Queer Performance of Three Young Women.

As a Temple-street car going eastward was passing near Olive street at about 7:30 o'clock last evening, three young women were seen standing near the sidewalk on the south side and one of them threw an egg, which struck a passenger on the dummy, very much to the damage of his clothes.

Officer Ray and McLean, who chanced to be on the car at the time, chased after the indiscreet young women, who ran around the rear of a nearby building and two of them succeeded in evading the officers. The third was caught, but she steadfastly refused to say who the others were. After the officers had ascertained where she could be found they allowed her to go, and it is expected warrants will be sworn out for the arrest of the three young women today. They all appeared to be old enough to know better, their ages being about 18 or 20 years each.

Assaulted by a Tramp.

H. J. Hughes called at the Police Station about 9:10 o'clock last night and stated that he had been assaulted by a tramp on North Main street a short distance south of the junction with Spring street. A man approached him and asked for the price of a loaf. Upon his refusal to comply with the request, the man struck him a heavy blow just behind the ear and ran down Commercial street. Officer Rico was called on the case and in a few minutes located a man on Los Angeles street whom Hughes positively identified as his assailant. The man was arrested and brought to the Police Station, where, among other things found on him, was a finely sharpened shoe knife.

The man gave his name as George Roper and claimed he used the knife for grape picking in Fresno. His appearance indicates that he is a "hobo," although he does not seem to be as tough looking as are a good many of the "hobos" who find their way into the City Jail.

Lost His Watch.

A man who gave his name as Jacob Pindley called at the police station last night and stated that he watch had been robbed from his pocket, while he was in some place near the junction of Los Angeles and Alameda streets. Pindley was under the influence of some intoxicant and could not give a very clear explanation of how it happened.

Two Erring Youths.

Louis Loeber and Fred Spinks, the two tough lads who have twice been arrested by the police within the past few weeks, were in the Police Court yesterday, to answer to a charge of petty larceny, with prior conviction. Young Spinks was dismissed and Loeber was ordered held on $2000 bail.

From his actions, it would appear that young Loeber is a bad boy, almost beyond hope of reclamation. When asked yesterday as to whether he would not prefer to go to the Whittier Reformatory rather than to the penitentiary, he expressed himself indifferently, and said he did not care if he was sent to Whittier.

He said he was in a like institution in St. Louis and ran away from there.

Pacific Gospel Union.

A special building for the use of the Pacific Gospel Union is to be erected at once. A Christian workers home has been established. A corps of workers are identified in the humanitary work as well as spiritual work of the union, and Superintendent Mason welcomes all. The past few days, F. H. Olmsted, formerly of Chicago city mission work, has conducted the meetings.

On Thursday Mr. and Mrs. A. Raymond Chandler will return, and on Thursday evening Mr. Chandler will sing. There is an increase of demand for help from needy ones.

THE RAILROADS

OPENING OF THE CAPISTRANO

Southern California Officials Making Great Preparations for the Event—Santa Fe

The Southern California Railroad officials are making great preparations for the formal opening of the Capistrano station Saturday. There will be a barbecue, and public speaking, and it is the intention to make the event a notable one in every way. The new station is after the old mission style, and is one of the most attractive on the line of the road, being in thorough harmony with the surroundings. Mayor Carlson of San Diego and other representative citizens from that city, will be in attendance, as will also Col. Dick Egan, Alcalde de Capistrano. It is also expected that Mayor Rowan will head a large delegation from this city.

SANTA FE OVERLANDS.

On the 4th of November the Santa Fe will renew its double daily overland train service, putting on the best trains ever

The fast express will leave here at 6 p.m., and will be a solid vestibule Pullman train from San Diego and Los Angeles to Chicago. The second overland train will leave here at 7 a.m., with tourist sleeping cars, and will connect at Barstow with the fast train from San Francisco, and take on a palace and a tourist car from the north.

both overland trains. The fast express will arrive at Chicago at 9 a.m., instead of 1:30 p.m., and connect with all fast trains that leave Chicago for the East about noon. The tourist train will arrive at Chicago at 10 p.m., instead of 8 a.m., next day, and will gain from ten to twelve hours between here and Chicago. The fast express will have the finest twelve-section drawing-room cars.

TOPEKA (Kan.) Oct. 23.—The two factions who respectively represent the Protective Reorganization Committee and the General Reorganization Committee of the Santa Fe Railroad, arrived in the city today. The former is composed of ex-Secretary of the Navy B. F. Tracy, Theodore Meyers, Newman Erb, William P. Smith, E. N. Taylor and H. D. Kyle, and are at the Hotel Throop. The latter, which is headed by B. F. Cheney, Jr., remained

Secretary Tracy said he looked for no excitement or friction at the meeting Thursday. He said: "We exchanged visits and our relations, of course, are pleasant. There is no quarrel between us, as indicated in the newspapers. The other committee traveled in a private car. We came as regular passengers, and paid our fares."

that we represent a majority of individual stockholders."

"Yes, and a majority of the stock, too," put in Mr. Meyers, who was standing by.

"We are here to make a fight," added Mr. Meyers, "and it will be a fight to the finish. We are going to have representatives on that board."

● SCRAP HEAP.

John C. Porter, Southern Pacific agent

Time-card No. 14, which goes into effect on the Southern Pacific on the 1st for the limited express, will also send the Chino local out of Los Angeles at 5:25 p.m., instead of 5:45.
